Paladins of Bazia
Elite Mortals at dawn's first service
Spellcaster, Ward
At the breaking of light, they emerge—
not to greet the day, but to judge it worthy.
Art © Marta Molina

Rat King
3
Tangled Beasts comprise an Elite Monster
Genesis & Deathrite → Search your top six spells. You may summon an Ordinary rat from among them to each other adjacent site. Put the rest at the bottom of your spellbook.
Art © Zohn Dee

Regurgitator
An Elite Monster chucks unsettling ordnance
At the end of your turn, Regurgitator must either fill its empty belly by banishing a dead minion, or empty its full belly by shooting a projectile that deals damage equal to the eaten minion's power.
Art © Lindsey Crummett

Renatus Trueblood
4
An Undead now recognized among the Elite
Airborne
Renatus Trueblood's strike damage against units heals you.
Art © Brom

Sacred Stag
4
An Elite Beast, sanctified and sovereign
Ward
Deathrite → You may Ward this site.
The stag came softly through the trees, a crown of branching sky—
Scarce paused, as if such sights as these, were made to pass us by.

An Elite Mortal finds meaning in chaos
Genesis → Draw a spell for each minion in the void.
"The shapes we see in stars are more than just stories."
Art © David O'Connor

Stitched Abomination
An Elite Undead straining at the seams
Genesis → Banish up to three minions from one cemetery to stitch together. This Abomination has their combined power, but each part may be damaged and destroyed separately.
The sum of all fears, sewn with thread and blasphemy.
Art © Doug Kovacs

Sturmgeist
Try not to scream near this Elite Spirit
Airborne
Whenever an enemy casts magic, Sturmgeist steps closer then strikes it if adjacent.
Art © Mattias Frisk
